News

The Charlottetown Chito Ryu Karate Club has enjoyed a 35-year history of classes at St. Jean's Elementary School. The gymnasium facility has served us well over that time. We have an opportunity to move to another location as the sole tenant in a new, permanent facility at the Holland College West Royalty & Sport PEI building on January 1, 2006.

Students

The new dojo will be accessible seven days a week. While continuing the same training programs that are currently offered, the new dojo provides additional time for: specialized training that will benefit all students; specialized programs in kumite, kata, bo, etc; and specialized classes especially for seniors or adults.

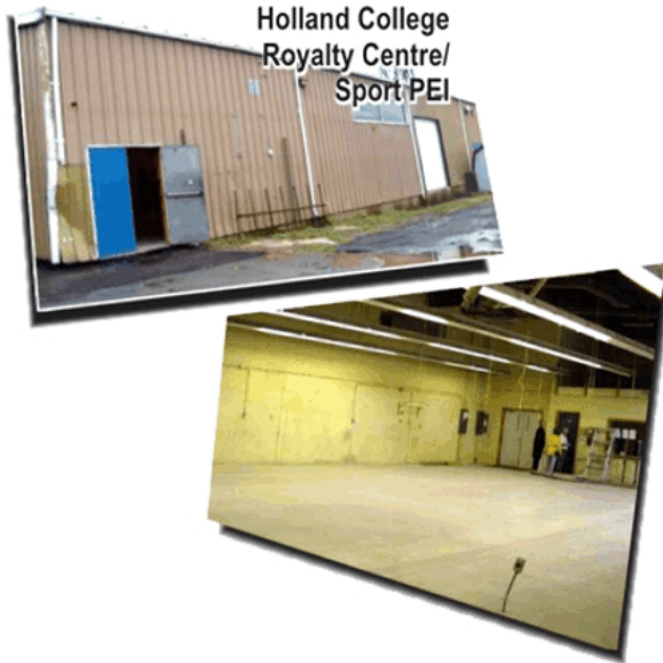

Fund-raising

This pending move marks a new chapter in the history of Chito Ryu in Charlottetown. The current condition of the new location will require manpower and resources to create a dojo suitable to our needs. It is a large room with a cement floor, high ceilings and good lighting. It needs some paint; the walls should have some mirrors; and, the floor will require karate mats. Most of this comes at a cost, so some fundraising is necessary.

How Can You Help?

Students, their families, friends of karate, local businesses, and other organizations are being approached & asked to consider making direct financial donations toward the purchase of required materials & supplies. These contributions will be used to offset the costs of preparing the new dojo.

Gifts of in-kind materials, donated supplies, or voluntary labour are also welcome & will be recognized for their full value! Call 892-3640 to put your name on our Volunteer sign-up list!
